How to use this pack

Print on A4 - landscape pages are marked for fixtures and brackets

Recommended workflow

1. Print the draw cards. Use the two cut-out pages and keep print scaling at 100%.
2. Cut along the borders. The cards are built edge-to-edge, so there are no awkward gaps to trim out.
3. Mix them properly. A hat, box or suspiciously official-looking office mug will do the job.
4. Draw the teams. Each participant picks one country at random. No peeking. No tactical re-folding. No "I always get Panama" complaints.
5. Record the draw. Use the allocation sheet to write each participant's name next to their country.
6. Track the tournament. Pin up the group fixtures and knockout sheets so everyone can follow progress.

Office sweepstake rules

Keep it simple: one team per person, one entry fee if you're charging, and one agreed prize structure before the first card is drawn.

- Winner: Participant with the World Cup winning team.
- Runner-up prize: for the losing finalist - prize half the winners prize.
- Wooden spoon: optional, for earliest exit or lowest-scoring team - prize 1/10 of winners prize.
- Cheaters: optional, for team with most booking points: Yellow=1pt, Red=3pt.
- Disputes: settle with common sense. Or biscuits. Biscuits usually work.

Print specification

Paper size: A4. Do not scale smaller than 100%. Cut-out cards and allocation cards are portrait. Fixture and bracket pages are landscape for readability.

Practical note: this is an unofficial resource. If you publish it publicly, check your own promotion, trademark and competition wording before launch.
